About the Physician Resiliency Summit

The Physician Resiliency Summit, June 5-6, 2019, at the Eden Resort & Conference Center in Lancaster, is the premier event for Pennsylvania medical professionals. Now, more than ever, the medical community realizes that in order to provide world-class care for patients, health care professionals must take care of themselves. Issues of burnout and wellness are critically important. This event will explore concerns affecting physicians at all stages of life – from medical students to late-career professionals.

The keynote session will feature Dr. Tait Shanafelt, an international thought leader and researcher in the field of physician well-being and its implications for quality of care. Shanafelt is the chief wellness officer at Stanford Medical.

The Foundation, a nonprofit affiliate of the Pennsylvania Medical Society, sustains the future of medicine in Pennsylvania by providing programs that support medical education, physician health and excellence in practice.
